

Driving Sustainable Efficiencies for COVID-19 Studies

WCG Trifecta is committed to supporting COVID-19 studies and understanding the dynamic nature of the environment and the continued focus on documenting a critical study aspect – training.

Redundant, inefficient study training will keep you from meeting current clinical trial demands. With WCG Trifecta as a partner, your clinical trial study training will be streamlined, with eliminated redundancies, perpetual inspection-readiness, and high-quality training ready on-demand.

As we look to the new wave of COVID-related studies including pediatric and long-term COVID, we're committed to partners for the long-haul and bundled aspect of these studies.

1 Speed Has Never Been More Important

We partner to deliver on-demand virtual training in as quickly as 3 days. This means that you gain as many as 55 additional enrollment days through this just-in-time training while cutting training costs by over 60%.

- On-demand, virtual training delivered in as quickly as 3 days
- Training costs cut by over 60%
- As many as 55 additional enrollment days gained through high-quality, just-in-time training.

2 Portability of Credentials is Critical

We can provide cross-sponsor and cross-study recognition of training – apply training credits earned in one study to future studies (over 100,000 exemptions made in 2020). With these redundancies eliminated, we're seeing an average of 200 hours saved per study.

- 15+ COVID-related protocols
- 750 research sites
- 6700 users
- 125+ web-based Investigator Meetings

3 Documentation & Communication Are Essential

Our Clinical Qualification Management System automates training documentation in a secure environment. This allows for inspection-ready documentation to be centralized and prepared for audit. Reporting available 24/7 for you and your team.